

AI, data, and process redesign for government.

We help agencies reduce manual work and connect fragmented records. We start with the result you need, cut unnecessary steps, and build AI agents and automation with source evidence and human review.

Core competencies

AI strategy and governance

Assess use cases, data readiness, costs, and risks. Define investment priorities, measures of success, and responsibility for decisions.

AI agents and process automation

Extract and reconcile information, show source evidence, and route exceptions to people for review.

Data and technology modernization

Connect healthcare and administrative records, improve data quality, and preserve traceability across systems.

Organizational change and training

Define roles and operating responsibilities. Train leaders and staff to use and maintain the work we deliver.

Past performance

Defense Health Agency

Multi-cloud data ecosystem and AI agents that assemble treatment records from separate health systems, at a scale of one million records. Proof of concept completed.

Insurance auditing and reconciliation

For an insurance carrier, quarterly work fell from five people for a week to one person for a day using the StrataEdge Reconciliation Platform. Manual checks found 99% of outputs met audit requirements, versus 90% previously.

DigiKey

Defined technology roles and career paths for US and India teams; delivered leadership and generative AI training. DigiKey implemented the new roles, jobs, and development plans.

Boston Consulting Group (BCG)

Built a working AI agent with human-review checkpoints in four weeks. In production three months after the start; work continues.
